

COBBLESTONE CUSTOMER SUCCESS

Background

Marion County, OR, located just south of the Portland metropolitan area, is dedicated to its citizens and fellow employees; and its goal is to provide top-quality service from community-focused professionals with a FY 2015-2016 budget of over $376 Million.

Challenge

Marion County was determined to find a contract management software that could alleviate on-going procurement issues that were prevalent. One of the main challenges that they faced was that they didn't have their internal processes documents. They were looking for a contract management tool to help streamline their contracting and procurement processes and assist them with evaluating how specific work 'moves' through the county. A very decentralized contract environment also played into their struggles and influenced their move from a paper process to an automated, centralized process.

Solution

Marion County chose CobbleStone Software Contract Insight for its ability to handle the full procurement and contract lifecycle. The Contracts and Procurement Manager at Marion County stated, "We chose it [CobbleStone Contract Insight®] because it was a cradle to grave approach to procurement. We could get one system versus 3 individual systems."

Challenge:

Marion County was faced with an inefficient contract environment with little approval transparency. Employees had difficulty finding active contract documents and in-process activity statuses.

Solution:

CobbleStone Contract Insight® Enterprise

Benefits:

- Centralized Access
- User Friendly
- Easy Setup
